Aunt Judy was one of the kindest most gentle hearted old souls. When she spoke of others, she spoke gently and fondly. She spoke some her best words through the beautiful poetry that she wrote. A talent unmatched by many and the ability to use words to create a picture in your mind. She made the the best butter and sugar sandwiches on the softest Woder bread from the bread box. Thick sliced butter with just the right amount of sugar 1 heaping teaspoon, Just the right treat when there was nothing else to curb a sweet tooth and a growling young stomach of a 5 year old boy. That was my first taste of many sandwiches to come. Though not as appealing now, it was the perfect treat then. She loved astrology and was a long standing member of the Utah Astrological Society. She was fascinated by stars and planets and could answer any question you could think of regarding them. Judy loved children, with her incredible ability to calm and charm them with a simple smile and a soft voice. With pointed pirate hats and swords made of old newspaper, it was a fight to the death from the soft end of the fringed point of the sword. She was the Pied Piper as my sister Sylvia often referred to. We loved her so much and she will be greatly missed but always remembered. Thank you Aunt Judy for the wonderful memories you gave in a temultuous childhood. I know in my heart that your peace has come and your pain has ended. I knew your heart and you knew mine. Kindred spirits to the end of time I miss you much. Love, Tommy
