Love of my life

Melinda Sue Wallace posted:

My sister, Marilee Brady Garrett (Bear) was like an angel who keep me "under her wings". When I lost my own mother at age ten, My sisters Marilee and Michele took it upon themselves to raise me. I wasn't an easy child to care for. I could be temperamental and emotional. I guess that God wanted Marilee to have this experience so that she would be well prepared for her life's work as a school teacher, eventually earning a Master's Degree in Special Education. Marilee didn't chose a career based on what she would earn or what she would get, she choose a profession based on what she could give and she gave her all. Her students had her love, her caring and her understanding. Her children, grandchildren, husband Paul Garrett, siblings, nieces and nephews and so many others dearly loved this woman. T thankful forever to have had her in our lives.
