Theresa Lewis posted:

Tori adored her aunt. They did all kinds of things together. They liked to go to the witches festival at Gardner Village they went most every year, they love to put on their favorite costumes and take a lot of pictures. And when Debbie had time off from work and she would join in. They also would love to go shopping at the malls. And don't forget all the eating establishments. They all had lot of fun. Christine will be missed by all and Tori can't stop telling all kinds of stories about what they did. We really will miss her. Love, Theresa
