

Mark Sheldon Pagano

May 2, 1958 - March 6, 2017

Mark Sheldon Pagano passed away March 6, 2017. The son of Matthew Pagano and Margie Brown, Mark was born in Ogden, Utah on May 2, 1958.

To everyone that knew him, Mark Pagano was a big heart and a calm mind that they could always count on. He was sensitive yet strong; stubborn yet hilarious. He was a talented artist and a hard worker.

His love of Bugs Bunny and Bob Dylan shone through in his personality. He was as dependable as his own daily routine. He loved his household projects, yardwork, and gardening with his dogs. Most of all, he loved his wife of 17 years, Sandy, and always made sure her beer was as full as her heart.

You could always count on him to tell you the latest corny joke or pun he had heard, or quote his favorite silly movies in every conversation. Mark loved his coffee hot and his food as “spicy as you can make it.” He would sit down to every meal with a habanero next to his plate to spice up every bite.

Mark is survived by his wife Sandy Pagano and step-children, Jason Chynoweth and Josaleigh Pollett, his brothers Max (Karan), Charlie (Marilyn), Timothy (Karen), and sisters Valdene (DeLoy White), and Linda (Robert Childs) and numerous nephews and nieces. He was preceded in death by his parents, brothers Daniel, Lowell, and Patrick, and sister, Elaine, and his best friend, Sally Ruby.

Mark’s family and friends will miss him dearly. A celebration of his life will be held sometime in May; please reach out to the family if you would like to be notified. In lieu of flowers, please send donations to Shriners’ Hospital for Children in Salt Lake City. They provided Mark with the ability to walk as a young boy and he donated to them as often as possible.

“ There are so many... Here's a random one, Mark put chains on my Trans Am tires for me so I could make it up that hill to Mantua one snowy day. I always remember that because I just showed up, helpless and clueless and he just sighed, chuckled and rolled under my car. He was like that, happy to help and to hug you. I remember when he discovered 'parking rocks' for the Harley at bear lake. I remember listening to 'dueling snoring - in stereo' during the wee hours at bear lake, out side the tents. I'll miss that silly, hugable, loveable, awesome man.

“ Sandy, Jeff and I are so shocked and saddened by this. Mark was such a wonderful guy and we enjoyed so much getting to know him on the Ireland trip. I'm so glad we all got to have that time together. If there is anything we can do that can lighten your load, all you have to do is ask. Linda and Jeff
